Rating for Employees Only and The Tippler:

New York City is home to countless amazing bars and bartenders. One can't walk down a city block without finding the option to make a stop for a cocktail, pint or glass of wine. With all the fantastic choices out there, it might be hard to pick where to head for the evening. So here are two ideal stops that should be part of your next cocktail night out in Manhattan. While there are an endless number of bars and restaurants to visit, these are just two of this Examiner's favorites in the city. Cheers!

Employees Only. Year after year, it just keeps on delivering. The handpicked team is all about hospitality, offering delectable cocktails that will keep you coming back time and again. The all-star bartenders get to know their guests and value each and every drink they make. It's no wonder EO was named World's Best Cocktail Bar at Tales of the Cocktail this year.

The Tippler. Opened last month by the renowned Tippling Bros team, this bar is located beneath the Chelsea Market. A large space with lovely décor and an even lovelier cocktail list, The Tippler is a feast for the eyes, ears and palate. Get comfortable at a private table or cozy up to the long bar for a bite and a drink that promises to please.
